Early History

Rome was founded in 753 BC on the banks of the Tiber River in central Italy. According to legend, the city was founded by Romulus and Remus, two twin brothers who were raised by a wolf. The early Romans were a simple people who lived in small villages and farmed the land.

Over time, Rome began to grow and expand. The Romans conquered their neighbors and expanded their territory. By the 1st century BC, Rome had become a powerful empire that controlled much of Europe, North Africa, and the Middle East.

Science

The Romans were a very advanced people for their time. They made great contributions to science and technology. The Romans invented the aqueduct, a system of pipes that carried water into cities. They also invented the sundial, a device that told time by the sun. The Romans were also skilled engineers. They built roads and bridges that connected their empire.

Architecture

The Romans were also known for their amazing architecture. They built some of the most impressive buildings in the world, including the Colosseum, the Pantheon, and the Roman Forum. The Colosseum was a huge amphitheater where gladiators fought to the death. The Pantheon was a temple dedicated to all the gods. The Roman Forum was the center of political and commercial life in ancient Rome.

Art

The Romans were also talented artists. They created beautiful sculptures, paintings, and mosaics. Roman art was often inspired by Greek art, but it also had its own unique style. The Romans were especially skilled at creating realistic portraits.

Government

The Romans had a complex system of government. The Roman Republic was ruled by a senate, a group of elected officials. The senate was led by two consuls, who were elected each year. The consuls commanded the army and made laws. The Roman Empire was ruled by emperors, who had absolute power.

Ancient Rome was a fascinating and complex civilization that has left a lasting legacy on the world. Ancient Rome for Kids is a great way for young readers to learn about this amazing civilization.
