But it was during his time at sea that Conlon had some of his most amusing experiences. In his new book, "Pianoman: Amusing Times Onboard Top Cruise Ships," Conlon shares some of these stories.

One of Conlon's favorite stories is about the time he was playing in the piano bar on the Queen Mary 2 when a group of elderly women came in and started dancing. The women were all in their 80s and 90s, and they were having a great time. Conlon said that it was one of the most heartwarming things he had ever seen.

Another time, Conlon was playing in the casino on the Royal Caribbean Oasis of the Seas when a man came up to him and asked him to play a song. The man said that he was a big fan of Conlon's music, and he wanted to hear him play "My Way." Conlon was happy to oblige, and the man sang along to every word.

Conlon has also had some interesting experiences with celebrities. He has played for everyone from Tony Bennett to Celine Dion. He said that one of the most memorable experiences he had was when he played for Queen Elizabeth II. Conlon said that the Queen was very gracious and that she enjoyed his music.

In addition to his amusing stories, Conlon's book also includes some of his favorite recipes. He said that he loves to cook, and he often cooks for his friends and family. Conlon's recipes are all easy to follow, and they are sure to please everyone.

Derek Conlon's book, "Pianoman: Amusing Times Onboard Top Cruise Ships," is a fun and heartwarming read. It is full of funny stories, interesting anecdotes, and delicious recipes. If you are a fan of cruise ships, music, or just good stories, then you will love this book.
